Vice and its suppression will be the keynote of the October conference of the Latter-day Saints, which began in the tabernacle yesterday. President Joseph F. Smith intimated as much in his opening address at the morning season, and it was the principal subsession, and it was the principal subsession and it was the principal subsession. Joseph F. Smith intilinated a sin in his opening address at the morning session, and it was the principal subject discussed by the speakers all day. Both meetings yesterday were well attended, though the advent of the usual conference rains doubtless had a depressing effect on the interest invariably taken in the semi-annual gatherings. At neither meetings was it necessary to open the galiery, the lower part of the tabernacle being easily capable of holding the congregation.

After the singing of an anthem by the choir, invocation was offered by President Seymour B. Young, beginning the forenoon session.

Thirty Days For Wilson.

The case against Frank Wilson, charged with resorting to an opium den, was heard before Judge Diehl yesterday. Attorney Wanless submitted the case upon the evidence introduced in the cases of the two companions of Wilson, who had already been tried. Upon that evidence Judge Diehl found him guilty and sentenced him to thirty days. In the state case against Wilson, in which he was charged with having burglar's tools in his possession, he was acquitted.

(Special to The Herald.)

Sunnyside, Oct. i.—As the result of being caught under a mass of rock that caved from the roof of a tunnel in mine No. 1 of the Utah Fuel company here last night, two miners lost their lives. They were James Cunningham and Edward Hughes.

The accident occurred shortly after midnight. The miners belonged to the class known as rockmen. It was their duty to clear away the rock so that the coal could be more readily mined. In company with several other employees, Hughes and Cunningham had fired a shot in the center of the tunnel roof.

It broke down about two carloads of rock and, after picking off the hanging fragments that looked dangerous, the work of loading the cars was begun. Suddenly, without a moment's warning, a great mass of stone that had been loosened by the shot, fell from the roof of the tunnel.
